

NWSBA installs officers, gives service honors

Ben Speckmann

Attorney Donald J. Cosley, the 2011-2012 president of the Northwest Suburban Bar Association, talked at the bar group's Thursday annual installation dinner. "Distinguished Public Service Awards" were given to Cook County Associate Judge Joel L. Greenblatt and Cook County Associate Judge James P. Etchingham.

Supreme Court dispute includes a report of attack

By The Associated Press

MADISON, Wis. — A member of the Wisconsin Supreme Court's liberal faction has accused a conservative justice of choking her during an argument in her office earlier this month — a charge he statement and told The Associated Press that Prosser probably wouldn't either.

Other members of the court either did not return messages or declined to comment on the incident.

The argument took place June 13, the election. Then a county clerk who once worked for Prosser announced she had failed to report 14,000 votes.

A bitter and nearly monthlong recount ended with Prosser's re-election. He defeated Klomparens, who had 5,000